RE: Revised manuscript submission – ‘The Quest for Dynamic Consistency: A Comparison of OpenSim Tools for Residual Reduction in Simulations of Human Running’

Thank you for the opportunity to revise and resubmit the above-named manuscript (RSOS-231306) for your consideration in Royal Society Open Science. I appreciate the time of the editorial team and reviewers in providing comments on the manuscript. Alterations in the revised manuscript based on the review comments have been detailed in a document attached with the submission and have been highlighted in the revised manuscript using bold red text. A clean copy of the manuscript with no marked changes has also been included with the submission.

Thank you for your further consideration of this paper and I look forward to your feedback.

Kind regards,
